

The National Institute of Sowa-Rigpa (MSR), Leh celebrates International Women's Day

Leh, March 07, 2025: The National Institute of Sowa-Rigpa (MSR), Leh celebrated International Women's Day in advance on 7th March 2025 with a special program dedicated to recognizing and honouring the invaluable contributions of women in every field.

The event, held in the conference hall of the institute, brought together students and faculties all together. The International Women's Day is observed on 8th March every year to celebrate women's accomplishments in various fields. The theme of this year is "Accelerate Action". The main aim to celebrate International Women's Day is to advocate for gender equality and highlight challenges faced by women worldwide and to create an inclusive, fair, and empowering society for women.

Dr. Passang Dolma, Associate Professor of National Institute of Sowa-Rigpa was the Chairperson for the event and Dr. Tsewang Dolma, Assistant Professor and Dr. Tsering Norzom, Assistant Professor was the guest of Honor. The celebration featured insightful speeches, highlighting the importance of gender equality and women's empowerment.

Dr. Padma Gurmet, Director, National Institute of Sowa-Rigpa congratulated all the women employees and Girl students of the Institute and highlighted the importance of celebration of the International Women's Day. He advised all the staffs and students of the Institute to make National Institute of Sowa-Rigpa, a women's friendly and safe place to all the visiting women patients, female employees and Girls Students of the Institute.

The Chairperson, Dr. Passang Dolma encouraged every girl students to keep striving confidently for the best in every field as women can achieve everything they want as men do. The guest of honor shared their experiences and emphasized the need for greater inclusion of women in every field. The celebration concluded with a vote of thanks.

